

Sectoral Social Dialogue Committee Chemical Industry

WG ETLI Meeting - 7 July 2009

5) Proposal for preparing of new Brochure « Best Practises of education, training and Lifelong learning in the European chemical Industry »

Contents:

Working with schools - for attracting pupils to chemistry (support schools chemistry's laboratories , museums of chemistry , open doors , web sites , TV films and programs

Working with vocational schools - agreements between the companies and vocational schools to help them with laboratory equipment , places for practical work, summer part time work, participation when new programmes and lessons are implemented, participation in the student exams and certification

Training and Lifelong learning of employees on company level

Working with the training centres - good coordination

Working with the universities - contacts for good qualification of engineers, student practices, new skills developments

Best practises of tripartite cooperation(Government, Employers and Employees organizations) on national level, when work on National Vocational Qualification

Good cooperation between different players HLG, most successful EU projects, ect

We will collect information from all countries social partners and will have reach information from different associations and trade unions, which will increase the image as social partners of European chemical Industry and will be used as experience exchange between parties