Nature, characteristics and purpose

The Living Conditions Survey is a source of statistical information for the countries of the European Union, designed with the aim of obtaining comparative data on income and living conditions of private households.

The importance of these objectives has led us to request your important and valuable collaboration.

Legislation

Statistical Secrecy

Personal data obtained by the statistical services will be subject to protection and will be covered by statistical secrecy (Article 13.1 of the Law on Public Statistical Function [LFEP, for its acronym in Spanish] of May 9, 1989). All statistical personnel will have the obligation to preserve statistical secrecy (article 17.1 of the LFEP).

Obligation of providing data

Laws 4/1990 and 13/1996 establish the obligation to provide data requested for the compilation of this statistic.

The statistical services may request data from individuals and legal entities, domestic or foreign, resident in Spain (art. 10.1 of the LPSF).

All natural and legal persons that provide data must answer the questions required by statistical services in due form and truthfully, accurately, completely and within the deadlines (art. 10.2 of the LFEP).

To ensure compliance with these regulations, the LFEP (art. 48) grants sanctioning capacity to the INE.

Interviewer: Read what follows to the Informant 'Next I am going to ask you some questions related to your primary residence. If the household members have other dwellings, bear in mind that we are only referring to the main dwelling'.

A,B,C,D,E. Main dwelling

a. General characteristics of the main dwelling

(HH021) HA3. Which of the following is the housing tenure regime...

Interviewer: Read the four possible types to the Informant and, if you have any questions or doubts, you can help them with the following clarifications:

Property: When the dwelling belongs to a member of the household, even if it has not yet been fully paid for or they are not the legal owner, but is by natural inheritance, transmission, etc. because the legal owner has died, emigrated, etc.

Rent or sublease at market price : When a member of the household pays an amount at market price for its use, even if all or part of the amount is later reimbursed by a company, an institution, a family member or others.

Rent or sublease at a price lower than the market price : When a member of the household pays an amount lower than the market price. Controlled rent dwellings are included.

Free assignment: When the household does not pay rent because the home has been provided by a relative or person who is not a member of the household, by an institution, company or others. The case in which the household pays a rent is not included here, even if later it is returned by any institution, company or person who is not a member of the household.
