APPENDIX C — INSTRUCTIONS

[1] PREN: 1. The household component

List the members of your household by specifying only their FIRST NAME. Unique names will be used to help distinguish people. Start the enumeration with the person who is considered the head of the household.

[2] BUN: 15. Which of the following durable goods are in your household?

Multiple answer! br Only goods in working condition during the interview are recorded, even if they are not currently used by the household.Owning a <big>computer</big> or a <big>car</big> is not necessarily involves only the right of ownership: the respective goods can also be rented, in cash, borrowed on credit or in common use with other households.

[3] RENOV: 30. In the last 5 years, have you renovated your home to take steps to insulate it?

The following renovation measures should be included: br - improving the thermal insulation of the external walls, the roof or the floor; br - replacement of windows with single, thermal or triple glazing; br - replacing the heating system with a more efficient one.

[4] FERE: 33. What type of windows do you have in your dwelling?

This variable identifies the type of windows installed in the home in terms of glazing: - single glass - the windows are made of a single glass; - double glazing - the windows are made of two panes of glass; - triple glazing or more - windows are made of at least three panes of glass.

[5] ANCO: 34. What was the year your home was built or majorly renovated?

If the home has undergone a major renovation, it should be the year in which the renovation was completed. Major renovation refers to an extensive modernization of the building, with insulation, roofing, electrical installation, heating, etc. If only minor renovations or repairs have been carried out, the year of construction must be recorded.

[6] SIFI: 34. How was the household's financial situation when you were 14 years old?

For a respondent who alternated between two households and spent an equal amount of time with each guardian/parent (when they were around 14), please consider the same household you referred to in question 23 ( What type of household did you live in when you were 14?)

[7] CEBZ: 35. When you were 14 years old, were you provided with the basic school requirements?

This variable is valid for all children aged between 1 and 18 years who attended school and lived in the same household as the respondent when he was around 14 years old. If out of all children, only one child did not have their basic school needs met due to financial reasons, then the response category should be "No, due to financial difficulties". "Basic school needs" should be understood as e.g. books and equipment needed for school.

[8] MAZI: 36. When you were 14 years old did you have a daily meal of meat, chicken, fish (or the vegetarian equivalent)?

This variable is valid for all children between the ages of 1 and 18 who lived in the respondent's household when he or she was around 14 years old. If out of all children, only one child did not consume these foods, it is assumed that the entire group of children in the household did not consume.

[9] VASA: 37. When you were 14 years old, did you take a week's holiday away from your main home?

This variable is valid for all children between the ages of 1 and 18 who lived in the respondent's household when he or she was around 14 years old. Even if only one child did not have a holiday away from home for at least 1 week a year, due to financial reasons, then the answer category should be "No, due to financial difficulties". "1 week" means 7 days. "Vacation" should be understood as: vacations with family, relatives, friends, a youth organization, a school trip, etc.

[10] DIFL: 38. Have you ever experienced, involuntarily, housing difficulties?

Situations will be taken into account where the respondent did not have a place of his own where he could live and therefore was forced to stay with friends/family or stay in a place that is not intended as a permanent home or had to sleep in a public space. The situation in which the respondent had to leave the home should not be taken into account for several days due to an unforeseen event such as the risk of an earthquake, fire in the neighborhood or evacuation of the neighborhood for other reasons.

[11] DIFC: 43. In the last 12 months, have you also experienced difficulties in renting a home?

Rental difficulties should be considered as the following situations: - if he has to borrow money (from a bank, relatives outside the household, or friends) to pay the rent; - if the rent is paid by other family members who do not live in the same household (for example, parents, children, relatives, etc.) because the person could not cover the whole amount or part of the rent; - if he was forced to sell goods such as jewellery, furniture, a car or other valuables or property in order to cover the rent.

[12] PEPR: 53. Do you personally contribute to individual private pension plans?

Contributions to individual private pension plans (Pillar III), in the income reference period, refer to contributions paid by individual households on their own initiative and for their own benefit, independently of employers or the government and outside of any social insurance scheme. They include: - contributions to individual pension plans related to old age, descendants, illness, disability and unemployment.

[13] OTPR: 76. How many hours did you work in a typical week from January to December %AN_REF%?

This variable indicates the number of hours worked in a typical week during the earnings reference period. Overtime, paid or unpaid, is included, but time spent between home and work and lunches are excluded. People who had a job but were absent for the entire period will declare 0 hours. People who were unemployed during the reference period will declare the number of hours in a typical week during the period they worked (even if this period was short)

[14] VBAS: 85.1. EMPLOYEE CASH OR NEAR CASH INCOME

Income from salary activities includes: - Cash income from wages: payment of overtime, driving allowance, 13th salary, bonuses and other benefits; - The value of the products and services: meal vouchers, holiday vouchers, transport or fuel settlement, rent for work accommodation, etc.; - Compensation for temporary incapacity for work: medical leave granted during the period in which the person is temporarily incapacitated for work due to an accident at work or due to an occupational disease; - Maternity allowance: medical leave granted to a pregnant woman or to a woman in the first six to eight weeks after giving birth (lauza woman) and totals 126 calendar days. - Maternal risk allowance: it represents 75% of the mother's average monthly income from the last 10 months before the benefit is requested. It is granted for a maximum period of 120 days. - Compensatory payments: granted to employees laid off through collective redundancies.
